The Four Theories of American Government

Final Due Date: Friday, December 16, 2022 (this is a “drop dead” date. No papers accepted after this date).

Question: Explain the four competing theories of American government. By examining various historical and contemporary aspects of our government (i.e. the question of whether presidential elections change the overall status quo and which of the three schools of thought on America’s future seems most likely), create an overall thesis suggesting which of the four appears to be the more descriptive with regard to the “necessary and ordinary operations of American government.”

I. Title Page (page number 1)

II. Abstract Page (page number 2)

III. Main Body (beginning with page number 3)

a. Introduction / Thesis Statement – a brief description of the four theories followed by a brief statement of your thesis outlining the details of how you will explore this overall question (approximately 2 pages).

b. The 2020 presidential elections and the “status quo”: Did Biden’s victory in 2020 fundamentally change the direction that the U.S. is headed? Would Trump’s reelection have made America “great again”? (first research project – approximately 8 pages of text analysis).

c. U.S. foreign policy and the “military-industrial complex”: Why is the U.S. constantly at war? What are the real threats to America’s security, and will the military be the institution that can deal with these threats? (second research project – approximately 8 pages of text analysis).

d. Conclusion – a wrap-up of your thesis and the conclusions that you have come to based on the evidence you have uncovered, and what, if anything, needs to be done (approximately 1 to 2 pages).

IV. Reference Pages – please complete in APA style (continue page numbering through last reference page).
