POLSC 240 – Political Theory

Instructions for tonight's class

Hey Gang,

Welcome to Week Two of the Corona Virus Protection Class! So far, so good, hope you guys are keeping up with everything. Keep checking the top of the class page for overall class instructions....this page is just for tonight's lecture. I'll send more updates to the "Covid-19 Update" link as more info becomes available. Here's this week's work:

1) First, click on the link for the reading "Why Socialism?" by Albert Einstein. Read through the article and tell me what you think on a journal response.

2) Next, click on the link for "Lecture Presentation" near the top and watch the master PowerPoint reader in action....from the relative safety of my living room!

3) Finally, again, still looking for a way to watch our "Capitalism" series, but I think it's too new to be found safely on YouTube. So instead let's watch "Understanding Marxism and Socialism with Richard Wolff." If you want to do your journal response to this talk instead, no problem. There's also a really good interview with Peter Joseph on a link toward the bottom of the page under Readings, Documentaries, and Websites of Interest for Political Science 240 Students! Click the link titled "Empire Files: Peter Joseph & Abby Martin on Abolishing Capitalism." Check it out. Agree or disagree some good thought food to chew on...

Once again, any questions, comments, or war stories, just send me an email...

Bye for now!
