Study and discussion questions

1. Discuss some of the key differences between the realist, liberal, and class system theory schools in IR. Of these three system level theories, which do you think is the best for describing, explaining, and ultimately predicting international events? Give examples of why you believe that theory is best.
2. What are the main points that Richard Wolff elaborates on in his interview with Jimmy Dore on Marxism? Are they useful in helping you to understand Marxism and how it relates to I.R. Why or why not?
3. Discuss the historical background of Marxism as described by Boyer. Were conditions in Europe sufficiently bad to cause people to question the system of capitalism? Are those conditions with us today?
4. In the Gasper article, how does Lenin explain the evolution of imperialism from capitalism? What do you find most and least compelling about his argument?
5. What key assumptions of class system theory can you identify in the speech by Noam Chomsky? Does his evaluation of U.S. foreign policy complement or differ from Lenin's critique of imperialism ?
6. What is the industry that Hartung sees as being instrumental in understanding war? Would his analysis fit properly within class system theory? Why or why not?
7. What concepts did you see in the Greenwald film that relate to class system theory? How would other theorists respond to their critique?
