Chapter 13 – The Economy and Politics (continued)

Instructions for the Week of March 14 to 18

So People...

We are finishing up the third quarter of the year. Just as a heads-up, I will NOT be accepting any work from this quarter (beginning in January) after this week. I will add up what you've done and add it to your next quarter starting next week and take your numbers into early June (the end of the semester). So buckle down and get this stuff DONE! We start fresh next week looking at Chapter 14 which will look at the institution of education and religion – two very powerful forces in American life. Here's your breakdown of taskies for this week:

Task 1: Click “PowerPoint Notes for Social Class in the United States” and go over slides 18 – 35. After going through this part of the presentation, I would like everyone to write two questions and make two comments about the presentation. You will upload this information to our Google Classroom page.

Task 2: Click “Text Reading and Text Assignment # 10” to find out what to read that week and the accompanying text assignment. This text assignment will be uploaded to the Google Classroom page.

Task 3: Click “Crash Course # 24: Social Class and Poverty in the United States” and “Crash Course # 29: Economic Systems and the Labor Market.” These short, 8 to 12-minute videos are a great way to familiarize yourself with some of the concepts we use in sociology. Go Nicole!

Task 4: Each lecture will be accompanied by an article which will correspond to that lecture's theme. This week you are only required to read the article. No journal response is required.

Task 5: Click on the link for this week's video and review. After watching the film, you will go to our Google Classroom page and upload to the Discussion Board Response. On this page I would like you to write a short, one to two-paragraph comment about the film. After that, please respond to two other student's responses. Please keep your responses to other students respectful – we don't need to agree, but let's be polite and mature in how we talk to each other...

Focus focus focus my chillins...don't start walking, keep sprinting to the finish!
