Chapter 16 – Population and Urbanization (continued)

Instructions for the Week of April 18 to 22

Well, how you diggin' "The End of Suburbia"? Kinda hard to believe that this way of life that we've all grown up with could be coming to an end...and soon! Considering the whole suburban project is still only 70 years old, that would be a pretty short run. What about "new urbanization"? Making towns walkable and sustainable. Let's chat about that when we finish the film. All right, let's finish up this chapter this week and move on to our next chapter. Just 2 more chapters to go. Here you are kiddies...some stuff to keep you busy:

Task 1: Click "PowerPoint Notes for Population and Urbanization" and go over slides 16 – 30. After going through this part of the presentation, I would like everyone to write two questions and make two comments about the presentation. You will upload this information to our Google Classroom page.

Task 2: Click "Text Reading and Text Assignment # 16" to find out what to read that week and the accompanying text assignment. This text assignment will be uploaded to the Google Classroom page.

Task 3: Click "Crash Course World History # 215: Population, Sustainability, and Malthus." These short, 8 to 12-minute videos are a great way to familiarize yourself with some of the concepts we use in sociology. Nicole...M.I.A. again!

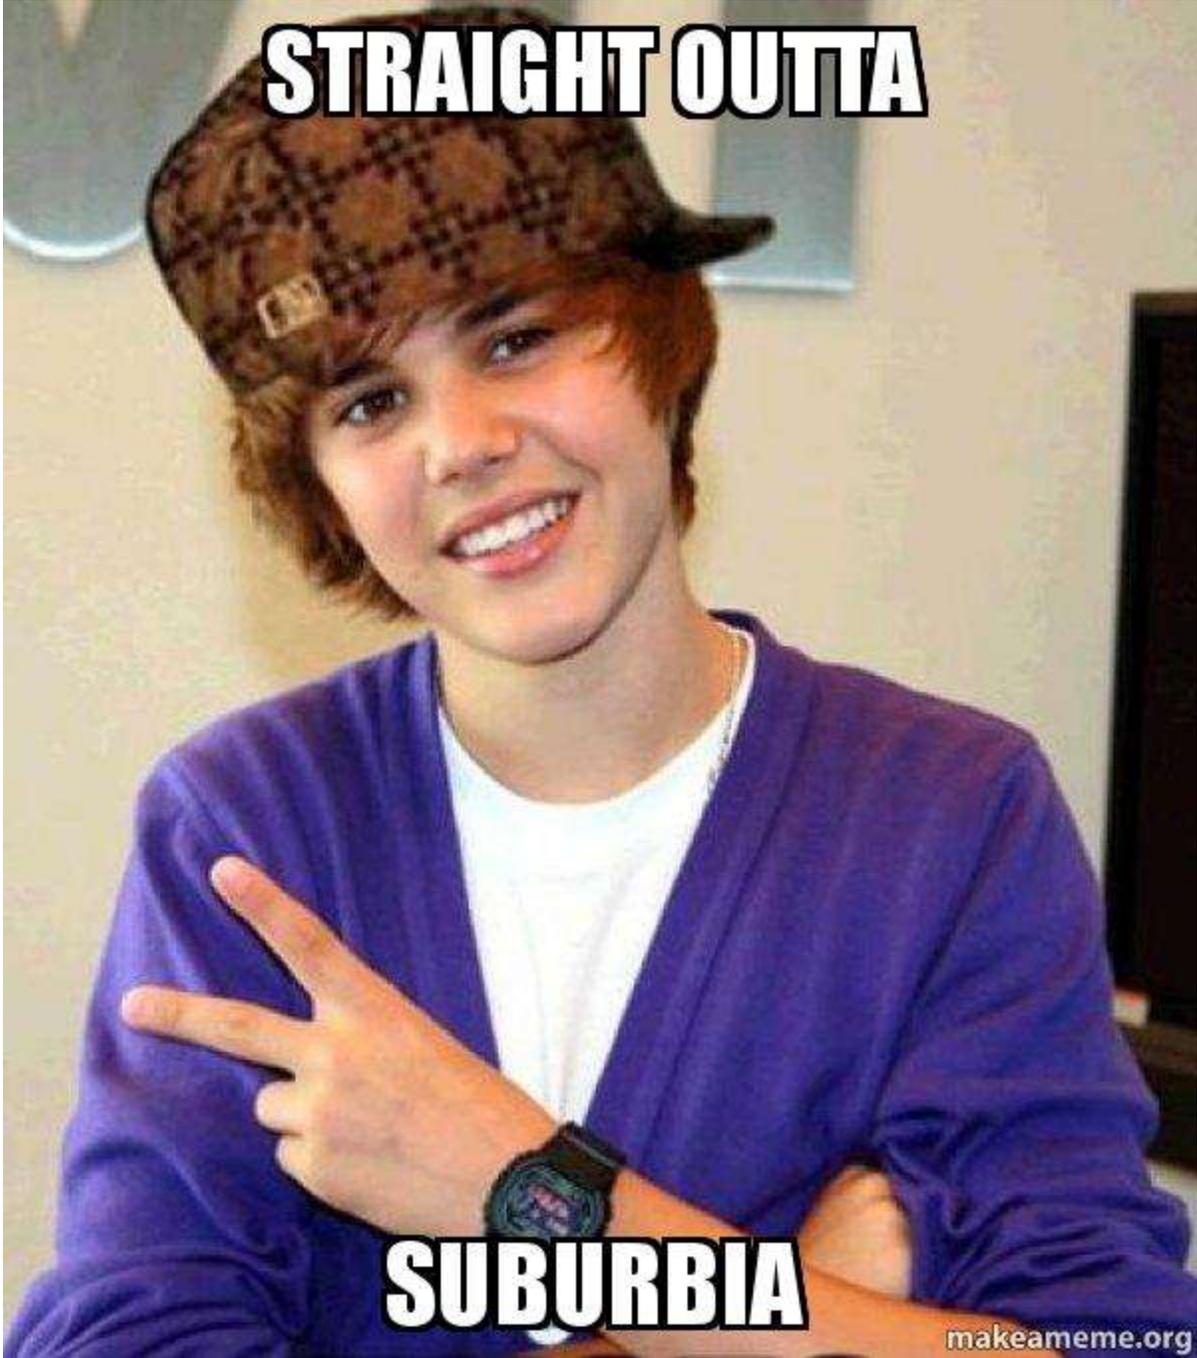

Task 4: Each lecture will be accompanied by an article which will correspond to that lecture's theme. This week you are only required to read the article. No journal response is required.

Task 5: Click on the link for this week's video and review. After watching the film, you will go to our Google Classroom page and upload to the Discussion Board Response. On this page I would like you to write a short, one to two-paragraph comment about the film. After that, please respond to two other student's responses. Please keep your responses to other students respectful – we don't need to agree, but let's be polite and mature in how we talk to each other...

In one week....May. Time flies when you're having fun, eh?
