Week Twelve / Chapter 14 – Education and Religion (continued)

Instructions for the Week of March 22 to 26

All right people, we are steaming toward spring break – just one more week after this. We'll start next week looking at the sociology of science and the mass media, but that chapter will be broken up by the break. We can finish up chapter 15 when we return on April 12th. So lets keep up the pace so we can relax for a week. OK, here's your breakdown for this last week of March:

Task 1: Click “PowerPoint Notes for Education and Religion” and go over slides 21 – 39. After going through this part of the presentation, I would like everyone to write two questions and make two comments about the presentation. You will upload this information to our Google Classroom page.

Task 2: Click “Text Reading and Text Assignment # 12” to find out what to read that week and the accompanying text assignment. This text assignment will be uploaded to the Google Classroom page.

Task 3: Click “Crash Course # 40: Education and Society.” These short, 8 to 12-minute videos are a great way to familiarize yourself with some of the concepts we use in sociology. Nicole Sweeny...the coolest teacher.

Task 4: Each lecture will be accompanied by an article which will correspond to that lecture's theme. This week you are only required to read the article. No journal response is required.

Task 5: Click “Video: The War on Kids” and watch the second hour. After watching the film, you will go to our Google Classroom page and upload to the Discussion Board Response. On this page I would like you to write a short, one to two-paragraph comment about the film. After that, please respond to two other student's responses. Please keep your responses to other students respectful – we don't need to agree, but let's be polite and mature in how we talk to each other...

One more week....you can do it!
