

Instructions for the November 29, 2022 Lecture

As you know, the paper was due on November 15th. For those of you who could not get it in, I would have your paper up on Turnitin by the last night whether it is finished or not. We are now ready to finish this semester off. One more lecture (and a super important one given everything that is occurring in America right now), and we can devote the final class to a discussion on the four theories of American government, and the hopes, fears, prospects, and predictions you have as our country moves past our last election. OK, here is your final breakout for the last lecture:

Lecture 15. Civil Liberties / Civil Rights

Task 1: Read these instructions (just One. More. Time. Yay!!!)

Task 2: Read Chapter 14 in the Heineman text (pp. 286-313)

Task 3: Watch the lecture presentation for “Civil Liberties and Civil Rights.” Last

Task 4: Read the article for your journal response. You can find the question on the link titled “Lecture / Discussion Page” highlighted in yellow. After completing the response, you will have until the date posted on the assignments page to upload it to Canvas.

Task 5: Open the link for the video and watch.

Task 6: Go to our Canvas page and click the link titled “Discussion Board for Lecture Fifteen” and answer the question that I have posted in approximately one to two-paragraphs. Wait for other students to put their responses and then pick two students to respond to. The deadline for these responses will be posted on the Canvas assignments page. Don’t be late....

So, you should be all set and have everything you need to finish off. Once again, thank you all for your patience and understanding during these very challenging times. You all did an excellent job, and I had a great fall working with you. Remember for our last night, I’ll need tips and advice on what to fix in the future if it calls for online delivery so be thinking about that.

Peace out,

Kropf
