

Instructions for April 4, 2022 Lecture

Hey Folks,

Welcome back. Hope you had a nice little break. Well, we have two more ideologies to cover. Remember: they're all related to liberalism in some form or another, either in a good way or bad way. This week's lecture is no different, although again, very complicated. I would throw this one up as a very misunderstood ideology, used quite a bit nowadays against anyone who disagrees with you. Which makes it particularly problematic...you know...as a concept to be reckoned with. Many called Trump a fascist. Was he? Mussolini called it "the perfect merging of the corporation and the state." Lenin described it as "capitalism in decay." Who was right? I dunno...let's take a look. Here you go (you know you love your tasks):

Lecture 9. Fascism

Task 1: Read these instructions (if you dare....)

Task 2: Read Hoffman and Graham, Chapter 9, pp. 280 – 304.

Task 3: Click the link on my website or the Canvas "Modules" page titled "Lecture Nine Presentation" and watch the lecture for this evening. (stare at the screen my children.....you're getting sleepy...)

Task 4: Read the article for your journal response. You can find the question on the link titled "Lecture / Discussion Page" highlighted in yellow. After completing the response, you will have until the date posted on the assignments page to upload it to Canvas.

Task 5: Open the link for the video and watch.

Task 6: On the Canvas "Modules" page down to the link titled "Discussion Board: Lecture Nine." Then answer the question that I have posted in approximately one to two paragraphs or so. Wait for other students to put their responses and then pick two students to respond to. The deadline for these responses will be posted on the Canvas assignments page. Don't be late....

Next week, last classical ideology. This one will blow the house down. For reals people!

So, buckle up, the road's about to get bumpy!

Kropf
