

Instructions for Lecture Two

OK People!

So, the first of our 4 “units” in this class focuses on classical ideas, and one of the most important is the concepts of “freedom,” what it means, how it works; but importantly, what is the relationship to “the state” in expanding or reducing said freedom? Again, these are concepts citizens tend to toss around pretty casually, without ever thinking very deeply about their meaning. Let’s start there then and get a little more critical in how we analyze these concepts. For the week you have 6 tasks...sooo, gooo get ‘em! Here you are:

Lecture 2. The State and Freedom

Task 1: Read these instructions!

Task 2: Read Hoffman and Graham, Chapters 1 and 2, pp. 11 – 53.

Task 3: Click the link on my website or the Canvas “Modules” page titled “Lecture Two Presentation” and watch the lecture for this evening. I’m back....sorry 😞

Task 4: Read the article for your journal response. You can find the question on the link titled “Lecture / Discussion Page” highlighted in yellow. After completing the response, you will have until the date posted on the assignments page to upload it to Canvas.

Task 5: Open the link for the video and watch.

Task 6: On the Canvas “Modules” page down to the link titled “Discussion Board: Lecture Two.” Then answer the question that I have posted in approximately one to two paragraphs or so. Wait for other students to put their responses and then pick two students to respond to. The deadline for these responses will be posted on the Canvas assignments page. Don’t be late....

All right, so far, so good. You survived the first couple weeks, that’s a good sign actually. Online learning? Yeah, I’m not a fan, but we’re doing our part so let’s keep our sense of humor. Looking forward to next week’s discussion on equality and justice (or is it spelled “just us”...hmmm, not sure, better Google that).

See you next week...

Peace out,

Kropf

I'd like to speak to the manager of America