

Instructions for Lecture Three

Hi Folks,

Next up on our list of concepts, equality and justice. Wow, these two can get people arguing, right? Well then, let the debate begin. My own thought is that there was a time not long ago when people thought that these two concepts were safe and snug in the warm glow of American “democracy.” Turns out, that believing that our citizens were in agreement about these concepts was probably always a bit overstated. Always (because of our history), there are simmering doubts that these two concepts will be forever(?) problematic and debatable. Oh well, what else to have to do this semester? Might as well dig in, so here you go:

Lecture 3. Equality and Justice

Task 1: Read these instructions (if you want, no pressure)...

Task 2: Read Hoffman and Graham, Chapters 3 and 4, pp. 54 – 98.

Task 3: Click the link on my website or the Canvas “Modules” page titled “Lecture Three Presentation” and watch the lecture for this evening. Yeah, I know....guess who?

Task 4: Read the article for your journal response. You can find the question on the link titled “Lecture / Discussion Page” highlighted in yellow. After completing the response, you will have until the date posted on the assignments page to upload it to Canvas.

Task 5: Open the link for the video and watch.

Task 6: On the Canvas “Modules” page down to the link titled “Discussion Board: Lecture Three.” Then answer the question that I have posted in approximately one to two paragraphs or so. Wait for other students to put their responses and then pick two students to respond to. The deadline for these responses will be posted on the Canvas assignments page. Don’t be late....

OK, that’ll keep you busy. Any questions, comments, concerns? Well then, just get your mug on Zoom and start firing away!

Until we meet again,

Kropf
